

Late Summer in the Chiricahua Mountains

September 15, 16, and 17, 2018

Southwestern Research Station

The Cochise and Tucson Chapters of the Arizona Native Plant Society are in their seventh year of co-sponsoring a weekend in the Chiricahua Mountains of southeastern Cochise County. These richly diverse mountains are one the northern-most islands in the Madrean Archipelago that encompasses parts of Arizona, New Mexico , Sonora, and Chihuahua. Come enjoy this weekend with us. Whatever the weather, there will be botanical treats and great company.

Tentative Schedule

Day 1: Arrive mid to late afternoon, check in, eat supper and head for the education center for some plant talks and discussion.

Day 2: An all-day field trip to a location to be determined. Or alternatively, stay nearer SWRS and attend one or both of two shorter field trips. Happy Hour at the pool before dinner. Evening program in the education center.

Day 3: A morning field trip, lunch, and then depart.
